

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## PREFACE.

THE CABINET was organized in 1838 and first recognized in an appropriation made by Congress, March 3, 1839. This appropriation was "for specimens of ores and coins to be reserved at the Mint," and has been continued through subsequent years to the present time. At first United States coins were preserved from year to year by Mr. Adam Eckfeldt, together with some foreign coins which were received as deposits and withheld from the melting pot.

In 1860 a descriptive catalogue, entitled "Coins of All Nations," was published under the auspices of the Director of the Mint, Hon. James Ross Snowden, and prepared by Mr. George Bull, who was in charge of the Cabinet. He received valuable advice and assistance from Mr. William E. Dubois, who was at that time Assistant Assayer and Curator of the Cabinet. It was and is a very valuable work, but so costly that very few were sold to the many thousand visitors. Many coins and medals have been added since 1860, and in their selection and purchase their historical interest has been considered of most importance. The coins of all countries, ancient and modern, are arranged chronologically, and numbered in their respective cases. By the assistance of this publication, which gives the numbers that include the different countries, biographical and geographical indexes, the value of foreign coins, and other matters relating to coins, it is thought the interest of the visitor will be much increased. Coins and medals are historically of great value as the indices of progress in science and art.

CASE I.

Upper Section.

No. GREEK REPUBLICS.

1-141*g*. Coins of the Greek Republics. B. C. 700-300. Representing the coinage of eighty-five different cities and colonies. The highest point of excellence in the art of engraving or die sinking, either in ancient or modern times, was about the time of the fourth century before Christ. The coins generally reflect the art of the period and the places from which they were issued. It was considered sacrilege for any human head to be on a coin, and the main object of the coin-type or obverse, was to place before the people an ideal representation of the divinity most honored in the district in which the coin was destined to circulate. The head of Alexander the Great was the first to appear on a coin, as son of Zeus Ammon, and, as one after another of his generals assumed the title of King, each in turn was emboldened to place his own portrait on his money.

ROME.

ERA OF THE REPUBLIC.

All the coins of this era, except the earliest bronze and silver (which last are known as ROMA), are arranged under family names, of which about 126 are in this collection. They are alphabetically arranged.

283-498a. ROMAN REPUBLICS.

CASE II.

Upper Section.

ROMAN EMPIRE.

The principal Roman coin was the denarius; weight about 60 grains, value near 16 cents. The denarius gradually decreased in weight and fineness, until about the time of Elagabalus it was worth not more than six cents. From the denarius we ascertain the value of the inferior coins. It was worth 10 asses and afterwards 16 asses, and equal to 4 sesteria and 2 quinari. The denarius is supposed to be the origin of the British penny.

The aureus, or gold coin, was double the weight of the denarius, and under the first emperors was worth about $5; it also decreased in value. In the time of the sons of Constantine it was worth about $3, and continued at that for eight or nine centuries. The gold solidus of the Byzantine Empire was the currency of all Europe in the Middle Ages, and is often met with in histories of those times.

499-892. Julius Cæsar. B. C. 49 to Æmilianus A. D. 253-4.

Lower Section.

893-1086. Valerianus. A. D. 254-60 to Julius Nepos, A. D. 474. The Roman Empire of the west is usually considered ended at this date.

IDENTIFICATION OF COINS.

The obverse of coins usually bears the head or bust of the ruler, with his or her name and title, if of a monarchy; or a figure or emblem of liberty, if of a republic. The name of the country and date is usually on the obverse side.

The reverse usually bears the national or royal coat of arms, and the denomination of the coin. The name of the country is often given in Latin, and sometimes abbreviated, as follows:

OESTEREICH (Austria). BAYERN (Bavaria). CAMBODGE (Cambodia). DANIAE, DANSK (Denmark). BELGES (Belgium). BRAS. (Brazil). FRANCAISE (France). BRITANNIARUM (Great Britain). DEUTES REICH (Germany). HAMB. (Hamburg). D'ITALIA (Italy). NORGES (Norway). NETHERLANDEN (Netherlands). NOREM (Nuremburg). PERUANA (Peru). PORTUG. (Portugal). PREUSSEN (Prussia). ESPANA (Spain). SACHSEN, SACHS (Saxony). SUEERIGES (Sweden). HELVETIA (Switzerland).

MINERALS.

The mineralogical Cabinet embraces several hundred specimens. Among those of interest to visitors are:

A fac-simile of a nugget of gold from Australia; the value of the original was about $23,000.

A speck of gold, extracted from 5 ozs. of lead ore; it represents one part in 6,220,000 parts. The speck is so minute, that it would require several hundreds of them to make a cent's worth of gold. It is curious as a specimen of minute assaying.

A number of rare specimens of gold, silver and copper of peculiar shape.

A vivianite, or phosphate of iron, the largest specimen known.

An agate geode, from Oberstein, on the Rhine, which, being cut in half, exhibits the curious structure of such geodes. And many more interesting specimens, which, for want of space, we cannot enumerate.

PORTRAITS.

THE portraits on the walls of the Cabinet, attract the attention of many visitors because of their physiognomy, which, without exception, indicate men of high attainments. All the gentlemen represented by the portraits, were distinguished in literature, science, statesmanship, and high business capacity.

The portraits are arranged successively, commencing in the east end of the room with the first Director of the Mint.

1. David Rittenhouse, LL. D., appointed April 14, 1792.
2. Hon. Henry William De Saussure, appointed July 8, 1795.
3. Adam Eckfeldt. Mr. Eckfeldt was not a Director. He was Chief Coiner for many years. His collection of American and foreign coins formed the basis and beginning of the Cabinet.

PROOF COINS AND MEDALS.

REGULATIONS.

1. The price of the regular Proof Set of Gold Coins is $38.50; the Proof Set of Silver and Minor Coins, $2.50; Minor Coin Proof Sets, Eight Cents per set. Single Gold pieces, in proof, are sold at Twenty-five Cents each above their intrinsic value. Silver sets will not be separated. Proof Sets for the current year only will be furnished. The Mint has no Coins or Sets of back dates for sale.

(A "proof coin" is one struck by hand on a screw press from a specially polished die, using a polished blank.)

2. Private medal dies can not, under the law, be prepared at the Mint, but when the regular business of the Mint will permit medals may be struck from dies furnished by individuals, public institutions, and incorporated societies, at a charge sufficient to cover the cost of the operation and the metal.

A list of medals with the prices thereof is annexed.

3. The Coins of the United States, now authorized by law, are:

Gold.	Silver.	Nickel.	Bronze.
Double-Eagle,	Dollar,	Five Cents.	One Cent.
Eagle,	Half-Dollar,
Half-Eagle,	Quarter-Dollar,
Quarter-Eagle, 37 <sup>50</sup> / <sub>100</sub>	Dime. 15 <sup>5</sup> / <sub>100</sub>

All inquiries, orders, and remittances should be addressed to the Superintendent of the Mint at Philadelphia.

HERMAN KRETZ,
Superintendent.

APPROVED:

ROBERT E. PRESTON,
Director of the Mint.
